Kennedy Okays Wheat Sales to Communist Bloc Nations

Action Draws Both Cheers, Criticism

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy has given the green light for the private sale of millions of bushels of American wheat to the Soviet Union and other Communist bloc countries. He made it clear that the grain was for use only in the Soviet Union and Eastern Europe—not in Cuba. His decision, which in so many words he said was just good business for the United States, drew both sparks and cheers. The reaction ranged from Democratic Sen. Strom Thurmond's denunciation that it amounted to "arming our enemy," to Vermont

JFK Backs CIA's Viet Nam Moves

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy says speculation that the Central Intelligence Agency has backed administration policy in South Viet Nam is "wholly untrue" and does the CIA an injustice. At his first news conference in nearly five weeks, Kennedy also confirmed Wednesday that John Richardson has been transferred from his old post as chief of the CIA mission in South Viet Nam. He called Richardson "a very dedicated public servant" and he gave no reason for the transfer, nor said where Richardson would serve.

The early-evening session with 258 reporters also produced: A presidential announcement that the government will permit private businessmen to sell some $250-million of surplus wheat to the Soviet Union and her European satellites. Acknowledging that "there will be some who will disagree with this decision," Kennedy said it is "very much in the interest of the United States."

A Kennedy statement that he thinks Sen. Barry Goldwater of Arizona can capture the 1964 Republican presidential nomination—if he passes a preconvention test of "his endurance and his perseverance and his ability."

A restatement of official opposition to military coups in Latin America, coupled with rejection of the idea of using American military might to thwart them. Short of the use of force, Kennedy said, the United States was powerless to prevent recent coups in Honduras.

None Injured In Highway Mishaps

Four persons involved in two area traffic mishaps Wednesday were uninjured but one motorist was cited by the Lisbon post of the State Highway Patrol.

Mrs. Lois Mercer 32, of East Liverpool was cited for failing to stop within the assured clear distance after she struck the rear of another car at 3:25 p.m. on Route 30, about a half mile north of East Liverpool. The Patrol said Ralph Cline, 27, of RD 3, East Liverpool, was halted at a red light when Mrs. Mercer's auto struck.

An investigation is continuing into a truck-auto mishap Wednesday morning at 8 on Route 39, about a mile west of Wellsville, the Patrol said. An eastbound car driven by Donald I. Wellington of RD 1, Wellsville, was hit in the rear by a semi tractor-trailer driven by Delmar Harbough of Wooster. Moderate damage resulted.

Republican Sen. George Aiken's view that "the deal should prove beneficial to both the United States and the people of the purchasing nations."

In announcing his decision at his press conference Wednesday night after weighing both the political and economic problems involved, the President noted that more such transactions may be in the works.

The Soviet bloc countries, he said, "may also wish to purchase from us surplus feed grains and other agriculture commodities," and he added: "After consultation with the National Security Council, and informing the appropriate leaders of the Congress, I have concluded that such sales by private dealers for American dollars or gold, either cash on delivery or normal commercial terms, should not be prohibited by the government."

Kennedy did not specify how many bushels and how many dollars would be involved in wheat sale.

Kennedy did cite a figure as an example to show how the United States could benefit from the transaction. He said:

"The sale of 4 million metric tons of wheat, for example, for an estimated $250 million, and additional sums from the use of American shipping, will benefit our balance of payments and gold reserves by that amount and substantially strengthen the economic outlook for those employed in producing, transporting, handling and loading farm products."

However, Hubert H. Humphrey, assistant Senate Democratic leader, who was among congressional leaders briefed by Kennedy before his announcement, said the authorization cleared the way for wheat sales of $350 million to $400 million.

Butler Seen Favorite In British Race

BLACKPOOL, England (AP) — Deputy Prime Minister Richard A. Butler emerged today as the favorite to succeed stricken Harold Macmillan at the helm of the British government and the Conservative party.

As Macmillan was prepared for prostate surgery today in a London hospital, his party's leadership crisis moved toward an open trial of strength between Butler, 60, and two chief rivals.

The rivals are Lord Hailsham, 56, science minister, and Reginald Maudling, 46, chancellor of the exchequer.

The battle was being fought so far mainly on the fringes of the party's annual conference, which opened in Blackpool Wednesday in an atmosphere of confusion caused by Macmillan's unexpected illness.

In the Tory headquarters hotel there were intense consultations and canvassing into the early hours today.

Peers, members of the House of Commons, elder statesmen and party bosses talked in the corridors and private suits. There were whispers, secrets, maneuvers and bargain.

Former President Also Believes Nikita Won't Provoke War

Ike Says U.S. Should Exploit Russia-China Split

EDITOR'S NOTE—As a military leader and as President, Dwight D. Eisenhower was at the vanguard of world developments in the mid-century. Now in retirement, he comments in this Associated Press interview on French President Charles de Gaulle and Soviet Premier Khrushchev and their goals. He gives his views on the split between Russia and Red China and looks to the future of NATO.

By JACK BELL and MARVIN L. ARROWSMITH

GETTYSBURG, Pa. (AP)—Former President Dwight D. Eisenhower says the United States should exploit the split between the Soviet Union and Red China—"encourage it and do those things that tend to widen it."

"Assuming this is a genuine split, it is to our great advantage to promote it," Eisenhower told Associated Press reporters in an interview at his office here. The former president also believes Soviet Premier Khrushchev "has come to the conclusion there is nothing to be gained, as of now, by war." But, Eisenhower added, "there is no question in my mind that the Communist objective of world domination is as firm as ever."

Wants inspection safeguards against Soviet cheating written into any U.S.-Soviet agreement to ban nuclear weapons from orbiting space satellites. Says French President Charles de Gaulle "knows that geographically France is absolutely essential to a successful NATO," and for this reason "is not always easy to deal with."

Believes Ludwig Erhard, slated to succeed Konrad Adenauer as West Germany's chancellor, is a good man.

The text of the interview: Question: How do you assess the importance of the split between the Soviet Union and Red China? Can the United States exploit this split to its advantage?

Eisenhower: Assuming this is a genuine split, it is to our great advantage to help promote it—if for no other reason but to delay, if not make impossible, some of the things the Chinese say they want to do.

This is one of those things you have to approach cautiously. You don't want to show your hand completely, and you don't want to go overboard. It should be watched just as close as you know how, using all your intelligence, all your observers. I would say encourage it and do those things that tend to widen the split.

Q. Mr. President, would you support an agreement with the advance to help promote support a Soviets to ban nuclear weapons from orbiting satellites?

A. This is what I want to know: Is each side, then, to be invited into the area where the satellite is fired into orbit, and to inspect it before it goes?

Q. It comes back to the old stumbling block, inspection?

A. Yes, you have to have some kind of inspection.

Q. You had some rather unhappy experiences with Soviet Pre-

Leetonia Gets New Elementary Principal

LEETONIA — Jerry Russell of Wellsville was hired as principal of Leetonia Elementary School under a two-year contract when the Leetonia Board of Education met Wednesday at Orchard Hill School. The board approved the hiring on the recommendation of Victor Wood, superintendent of schools.

Russell received his bachelor of science degree in education in 1959 from Geneva College, Beaver Falls, Pa., and his master of education degree in 1961 from the University of Pittsburgh.

He has been employed in education for seven years, five as a teacher and two as principal of Highlandtown School in Columbiana County. A resident of Wells-ville at the present time, he plans to move to Leetonia with his wife and three children in the near future.

Slated to begin his duties Monday, Russell replaces Robert Scanlon who resigned in August to accept a position in New York state.

In other business, the board agreed to place an order for a 66-passenger school bus under a new program instituted by the Ohio Board of Education by which all buses will be purchased directly by the division of transportation with the local board being able to specify only the capacity. The bus is to be delivered Aug. 15.

Earth Mass Falls Into Reservoir, Villages Flooded

BELLUNO, Italy (AP)—More than 3,000 persons were reported missing today after a mountainous landslide crashed into the reservoir behind Vaiont Dam during the night.

The landslide sent a mighty flood boiling over the upper reaches of the Piave River in northeast Italy. Four towns with 4,300 residents were virtually wiped out.

Authorities said 300 bodies had been recovered by dawn. Later police reported more than 3,000 missing in the area of normally green cattle pastures, vegetables, fruits and sparkling red wine.

There were conflicting reports about the fate of the 873-foot concrete dam, the world's third highest.

A helicopter pilot who flew over the dam 12 miles north of this alpine city said the structure appeared intact with its reservoir almost empty.

Other reports said the dam had collapsed.

The dam held back waters of the Vaiont River, a tributary of the Piave. The Piave flows to the Adriatic Sea northeast of Venice. Police said the flood had swept away a building materials factory with large stores of potassium cyanide, turning the Piave into a stream of poison.

Police warned residents along the river not to drink its waters and not to open any barrels they found afloat or along its banks. The volume of water released in the disaster was so great that in Belluno the level of the Piave suddenly rose 16 feet, flooding fields and roads.

"We have no idea how many more are dead," Carlo Prestamburgo, vice prefect, said.

4 Youngstown Men Indicted By Grand Jury

CLEVELAND (AP)—A Federal Grand Jury investigating rackets in the Youngstown area returned indictments today against four men.

Three were accused of tax violations and the fourth with giving false testimony to the Grand Jury, which has been probing racket conditions for 21 months.

Benjamin White of Struthers, a Youngstown suburb, was indicted for giving false answers to three questions about betting operations. The indictment said he answered "No" when asked if he ever wrote numbers, took bets from anyone or made bets in Struthers.

Leo Mocer of Cuyahoga Falls, formerly of Warren, was indicted for four counts of failure to file income tax returns. The charges covered the years 1958 through 1961 and listed income totaling $34,697 which Mocer is alleged to have received in those years.

Philip J. Mainer of Youngstown was accused of two counts of failure to file tax returns. The indictment gives his 1960 income as $2,598 and his 1961 income as $6,594.

Ronald Carabbia, who also was named in a previous batch of indictments returned by the Grand Jury, was accused of making a false statement in a 1962 application stated that he had two agents working for him collecting wagers but that Carabbia actually had a greater number of people working for him.

Carabbia is one of three brothers accused of tax violations in indictments returned June 27.

U. S. Attorney Merle McCurdy said the federal probe will continue "until we clean up all racketeering in Youngstown and Mahoning county."

However the jury was excused until further notice.

Three of the four indicted today have been questioned in Young-

Mrs. Nhu Aims Blast At Kennedy

NEW YORK (AP)—Mrs. Ngo Dinh Nhu says that if she were President Kennedy she would "inform the people" about the Communist danger "instead of being inclined to lull them into a false sense of security."

She made the statement in answering a question after her first speech of a 21-day tour of the United States.

The fiery sister-in-law of President Ngo Dinh Diem of South Viet Nam spoke to more than 1,000 persons at an Overseas Press Club luncheon Wednesday.

During a 1½-hour question period, she was asked what she would do if she were president of the United States to insure defeat of the Viet Cong Communist guerrillas in her country.

She replied:

"I think that panic is very bad, but life can be good and pleasant without panic, if one knows that mentally, morally, one is prepared—that the whole people around us is prepared to meet the greatest danger of the times—Communism."

"So the first step would be then—inform the people instead of being inclined to lull them into a false sense of security."

She said those were "impromptu" thoughts but she "may find other solutions afterwards."

In reply to another question, she said her father, Tran Van Chuong, was dismissed as South Vietnamese ambassador to the United States before he could resign.

Mrs. Nhu said the government at Saigon considered at a 2 a.m. meeting a "challenging" cable

No Rain In Sight To Relieve Drought

Twenty-six, 27, 28 . . . The record count of rainless days for most of Ohio continued with no relief in sight today . . . or Friday

The drought, bringing problems of fire danger nearly everywhere and water shortage here and there, entered its 28th day today. Most cities report no drastic threat of water curtailment as yet. But many rural areas, particularly individual farms, are having difficulties.

In Central Ohio, dry cisterns and wells have forced many farmers and suburban residents to have water hauled from a distance.

Authorities in some communities have banned all rubbish fires because fallen leaves and dry grass have become tinder. The Department of Natural Resources says some woodland fires that occurred a week ago continue to smoulder along the ground and underground at plant roots.

The Division of Forestry has issued a warning to campers and hikers, and householders as well, to be careful with all fires. To make sure not a spark remains.

145 Washingtonville Pupils Used In Test

WASHINGTONVILLE — The 145 pupils at the Washingtonville School today completed a two-day testing program administered by the University of Toledo as part of probably the largest and most expensive intercontinental school comparison study ever undertaken.

Professor Luther Haseley of Toledo's College of Education directed the testing, although the long examinations were given by six Washingtonville teachers to create a more relaxed atmosphere among the pupils.

THE PUPILS WERE GIVEN two examinations including the Otis IQ test and the California achievement test to determine proficiency in reading, arithmetic and language skills.

Haseley is one of six UT professors conducting the study under a large federal Office of Education grant-in-aid to determine whether British students learn faster than American students at specific periods in English usage, mathematics and reading.

The survey, encompassing about 8,000 pupils in 17 American and 17 British schools was prompted by claims of some American observers that elementary schools in England, Scotland and Ireland were superior to those in the United States.

HASELEY SAID most of these claims were made after only more or less casual observations and were not founded on extensive scientific study. The UT research will attempt to prove or disprove the allegation, not with an "I told you so" idea in mind, but with the eventual goal of improving the educational lot of both nations.

Each school tested in the United States has its counterpart in Scotland, England or Northern Ireland, Haseley reported. Both public and private schools are involved.

Washingtonville's counterpart in the British Isles is a school in Scotland, a community with similar economic and sociological conditions and comparable proximity to large population centers.

Other schools in Ohio which are taking part in the study are a private school at Maumee, Catwaba near Port Clinton and Perryville. The professors also chose schools in Michigan, Pennsylvania and West Virginia for their research since "the selection of Ohio schools might be considered too provincial."

Haseley said the schools in Great Britain have been tested in the first phase of the program. The 34 schools in the project will be tested at the beginning of the year, in mid term and near the end of the year to chart a course of learning progress. "This three-part study will show whether the British children pull away from the American or the American from the British," the professor said.

The research will test the validity of two hypotheses: (1) that the children of the British Isles read earlier than American, (and 2) that American children learn certain concepts in mathematics at an earlier age than the British.

THE ADVANCED reading skills of the British probably traces to their kindergarten system which is almost synonymous to our first grade, Haseley said. "However, the British apparently have nothing comparable yet to our (modern) math, which is being offered in your Leetonia School District this year," the professor declared.

The goal of the UT team, headed by Professor Robert L. Gibson, is to complete the research and have a book prepared on the project by Aug. 30, Haseley said. Superintendent of Schools Victor Wood will be sent results of the Washingtonville study sometime in late winter.

Some amusing language difficulties were encountered by the American team in the European countries where a period at the end of a sentence becomes a "full stop," and erasing, unheard of in the British Isles, is known as "rubbing out."

Significant to Haseley was the unusual amount of time spent by the Britishers in teaching the complicated money system of shillings, pence and pounds.

"After a year of this, it's small wonder they might fall behind in arithmetic," the professor said.

TESTING — Prof. Luther Haseley (right) of the College of Education at the University of Toledo directed the testing of Washingtonville pupils Wednesday and today as part of a 34-school study of education in the United States and the British Isles. Teachers who administered the long exams were: seated, from left, Miss Virginia Hedl, Mrs. Mary Edgerton and Mrs. Sarah Calvin, and standing, Gordon Hoskin, Mrs. Adelia Musselman and Mrs. Kathryn Patterson.

Chinese-Soviet Split Overstressed

Critical Moment For Asia

EDITOR'S NOTE — Reporter William L. Ryan has covered news all over the world, from Moscow to Chile to Singapore. He is a specialist in Communist affairs and the way nations react to the Communist effort to gain converts. Now he is back in Asia, talking to people across the political spectrum from extreme right to extreme left, and from the top to the bottom of the ladder.

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
AP Special Correspondent
BANGKOK, Thailand (AP)—

Asia is severely shaken today by its own conflicts and by radical changes in the cold war picture. These changes are a potent yeast in the ferment which is engulfing the whole vast, over-peopled, and impatient continent.

"This is a most critical moment for Asia," said one highly placed informant. "You might say this whole area now is up for grabs."

It seems probable that a long hard struggle is ahead to prevent the whole continent from falling one day under Communist domination.

The most significant development for Asia in the past decade has been the violent quarrel between the Communist parties of the Soviet Union and Red China. Split is Overstressed

Yet there are also clear indications that the Chinese-Soviet split is being overstressed to an extent that can lead to dangerous consequences.

To Indians, the split seems to have become a question as simple as black and white: The Chinese have become all bad—therefore those who seem to oppose the Red Chinese must be the reverse. This includes the Soviet party and its followers.

Even in Southeast Asia circles closely connected with the United States and the West one can detect a superabundance of optimism. This seems based on the notion that the Red Chinese have lost the implicit support of the Russians, should Peking think in terms of embarking on reckless adventures. But Peking always has had the long view of domination in Asia by slow stages, despite its defiance of nuclear "paper tigers."

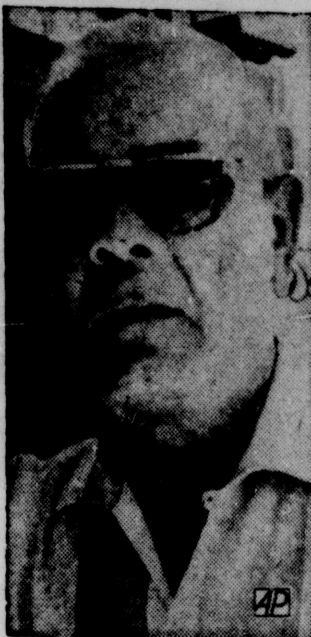

The more cautious element in Southeast Asia makes allowance for the possibility of events—a showdown crisis in which Moscow may have to stand up and be counted, or a change of leadership either in Peking or Moscow—which could cause the Russians and Chinese to close ranks.

Enormous Significance
Although the world's attention was diverted by the Cuban missile crisis last October, Red China's attack at that time on India's frontiers was an event of enormous cold war significance.

India turned in virtual panic to the United States for military help. It got aid, under the U.S.-British Nassau agreement, but this tended to damage Nehru's standing as the Asian leader of nonalignment.

The Indians are getting arms, ammunition and technical assistance for their armed forces. They wanted a bit more. The Indians hinted broadly that they wanted Nike-Zeus ground-to-air missiles for defensive purposes around the big Indian cities.

The United States did not take the hint. Possibly the reaction in Pakistan, which constantly expresses fear of the Indians, played a part. The Indians, who claim they have always turned first to the United States, now are looking to Moscow. There is a good chance that Russian ground-to-air missiles eventually will be protecting Indian cities against the Red Chinese.

NAMED BY VALACHI—Giralamo Santuccio poses at the door to his home in Hartford, Conn., after being identified by gangland informer Joseph Valachi and police as a trigger man in three murders many years ago. Local police say he is the "Bobby Doyle" described by Valachi at hearings in Washington.

Chest Drive Needs YOUR Help

Salem's United Fund workers are enthusiastic and encouraged by the auspicious beginning of the 1963 campaign, just now under way.

However, despite the fact that $33,820 is in hand, thanks to early solicitations by the advance gifts team and other energetic committee members, all members of the various teams realize full well that there's still a long way to go. The amount on hand in cash and pledges leaves $52,430 to be raised by Oct. 25, the deadline.

This means that all Salemites will have to dig in and help; "dig" into those pockets and billfolds for the "green stuff that counts," in order to keep the 13 vital Community Chest agencies functioning for another year. The campaign workers are giving of their time, and their own gifts, to support the Chest but they can not do it alone. It is a community venture in which everyone shares. Many persons benefit from one or more of the "red feather" agencies, whether they realize it or not, even by attending functions at the different community buildings and institutions, which, without the United Appeal funds, could not remain open day after day.

These include the Memorial Building and the Young Women's Christian Association, the Salvation Army, Catholic Charities, City Hospital and the Central Clinic, the Boy Scouts and Campfire Girls, Salem Home Nursing Service, School of Practical Nursing, the Home For Aged Women and the Quaker City Band.

Although many persons give more than their share to help put the United Fund drive over the top each year, it wouldn't require too much from everyone if each citizen would do his or her part. Give your fair share this fall and rejoice in your own heart for another community victory!

Mullins Operations

Salem Chamber of Commerce members, who include many local businessmen, were impressed by Milton Scattergood's frankness, his friendliness and his optimism when the new executive vice-president of the Mullins Manufacturing Corporation "laid it on the line" before the Chamber Monday in explaining the operations of the revamped local factory.

It's no secret that the company has had financial reverses in moving back to Salem from Warren and in getting readjusted here, but operations are looking up now with the ledger expected to start showing profits by the year-end. Nonetheless, Mullins has 806 production and office workers on the payroll at the present time and this contributes immeasurably to the over-all local economy.

In other words, Mullins officials are making real sacrifices to keep the business going and to keep people employed, knowing that the company has the community's support and best wishes for continued improvement and "the best year ever" in 1964.

Reserve Champ

By Truman Twill

Like millions of others, I am fascinated by the possibility that Dwight D. Eisenhower might be wangled into the nomination for vice president by the Republican National Convention next year.

This would be done — if it were done — to capitalize on the famous Eisenhower personality and popularity at the polls. If the Republican ticket won, the presence in the vice presidency of a man who had been a two-term president would obviate nervous speculation about what kind of a chief executive he would be.

It is not likely the Democrats would counter with a vice-presidential nomination for former President Harry Truman, but that would be in the same line of reasoning.

Naming former presidents to second place on national tickets would be an alternative to the present practice of naming people who for one reason or another are available and desirable for ticket-balancing reasons but whose outlook on the presidency if it fell into their laps is conjectural.

IN THE Eisenhower instance, it can be argued that the age of former presidents would have to be taken into consideration. He will be 73 on Oct. 14. Mr. Truman will be 80 on his next birthday, May 8, 1964.

Both he and Mr. Eisenhower, along with Herbert Hoover, the other living former president, recently have been voted the privilege by Congress of addressing the Senate if they ever feel the urge to say something. Mr. Hoover, of course, is now going on 90.

It is beginning to look as if these men who have been though the mill are coming into their rights as elder statesmen. Things have progressed a long way since Calvin Coolidge made a botch of writing a newspaper column for a living after he chose not to run in 1928.

Americans are thinking in the right direction. They want to take advantage of the probability that a man will learn as he moves along in this world and that his education will be out of the ordinary if he picks it up in the White House.

But aside from the use of their knowledge, there is still another reason we should find something for former presidents to do. Once a man has served in the White House, he cannot be happy in oblivion.

HE NEEDS to be fussed over and consulted. He needs a chance to taper off, to keep him from having an acute attack of mental "bends."

Former President Eisenhower is plainly aiming to keep his hand in politics as long as he can. So is Mr. Truman. Mr. Hoover has had his say off and on through the years. But they have had no pulp to speak from and no position to guarantee them a hearing.

What we have done to former presidents shouldn't have happened even to old vaudevillians or worn-out ball players. It was a disgrace. For a time we didn't even give them grocery money; they had to scrounge for bread.

I could go for Ike as vice president — an to keep it bipartisan I could go for Harry. Easier than for the kind of fellows they usually run in the vice-presidential slot.

By VICTOR RIESEL

Jimmy Hoffa, the nearest thing to perpetual emotion, slipped quietly in and out of New York the other evening, but stayed long enough to reveal for the first time that a national teamster strike now is a possibility. He wanted no one in the closed meeting of one hundred teamsters' officials to forget that he needed this threat as a weapon.

Victor Riesel

Until that meeting on the night of Oct. 2, in a well guarded room of the Hotel Sheraton — Atlantic, Hoffa had insisted publicly that there would never be a national truck stoppage which would put the brakes on virtually everything that moves on wheels.

His avowals that a national strike was unthinkable have been repeated during his 40-month drive for a master contract — which observers at first thought would cover only over-the-road hauling and local city cartage.

But those who know Hoffa's tactics well have put a microscope to his documents recently. It is now apparent that a master teamsters' contract covering the entire nation would affect far more than has been announced. This scrutiny discloses that "related work" also is involved.

OBSERVERS ASK what work is there that is not related to over-the-road trucking or city cartage. Obviously everything is related — from delivering pickles to warehousing tractors and moving space rockets.

Thus the background of the unpublicized meeting into which Hoffa rushed on Oct. 2 becomes dramatically significant.

Actually Hoffa sped into to put down a revolt against him — and a revolt in New York City by men who lead tens of thousands of men in something Hoffa wants to quarantine fast.

This particular episode in Hoffa's itinerancy began on the night of Sept. 24 in a crowded hall generously known as Palm Gardens. That evening some 500 members of Teamsters Local 707 — Highway and Local Motor Freight Drivers, Dockmen and Helpers — were jammed into the "Garden."

They listened to one of Hoffa's more eloquent lieutenants try to sell them the idea of voting for a master national contract. If they so voted they would be giving to a Hoffa-led national committee power of attorney to bargain for them.

FORTUNATELY this was not ladies' night. The "teamsters" howled down the speaker in pithy Anglo-Saxon which left no doubt that they wanted to keep their local autonomy. The lieutenant said he would go back and tell Hoffa. They said, bring him and we'll tell him to go to hell too.

They cheered one of their own — Tippy (short and affectionate for Tipperary) Carroll, Tippy, who has guts and who'll tell you he's pushing 60, stood up and said with dignity: "We want no part of you; go back and clean up the house of the teamsters."

Hoffa got a full report. But he did not decide to face a membership meeting. He asked that a shop stewards' meeting be called on Oct. 2. It was. He came and found about 100 men in the hotel room.

Tippy Carroll was there, but no longer surrounded by his cheering supporters. With him was a chap called Jim Bausch. They are two of the leaders of the anti-Hoffa opposition known as the Unity Force.

IN THE ROOM were some 60 to 70 shop stewards of local 707. The others were outsiders. From over in New Jersey, for example. And they weren't shy. They made themselves prominent — muscle and all.

One of the visitors was the teamsters' 12th vice president, Anthony Provenzano head of all the New Jersey teamsters and a high-priced president of the much filmed Local 560.

Tony Pro did not seem a bit disturbed by the fact that he had been convicted on July 12 of extortion. He was sentenced to seven years in a federal penitentiary and is out on appeal.

Tony Pro went up and down the aisle, giving some of the shop stewards the embrao, pounding their shoulders, all in good fellowship. With him was a relative, "Happy" Reynolds, fairly facile with his fists.

HOFFA SPOKE for 90 minutes. He talked of the marvels of a master contract to cover the highway hauling and city cartage. He told the shop stewards to go out and sell the idea to the membership.

Then came the question period. Opposition leader Jim Bausch has guts, too. He said to the general president:

"It seems to me you are setting up for a nationwide strike with this."

Hoffa was angered by this rebuttal right out in the open. He retorted that he was not going to give up the possibility of a strike. He snapped, we are not letting the possibility go by; we are not telling anybody we won't have a strike. This is our weapon.

Then came the vote. Only two were against Hoffa.

In that room they were alone. But they will not be so at the membership meetings of that local — nor will men like them stand alone at a series of rank-and-file meetings all through the East.

The revolt is on.

Anti-Hoffa Revolt Flares

Ann Landers Answers

Dear Ann Landers: Three months ago I started to date a 33-year-old attorney. I am 25. He never has been married and lives with his widowed mother. He told me last night that I'm the type of girl he would like to marry — and a d d d, "provided you can pass the test."

I asked him what test, and these are the questions he asked: "Are you neat about the way you squeeze toothpaste out of tube? Do you roll it up properly? Do you pin your hair up at night and cream your face?" (He can't tolerate this.) "How often do you change bed linen?" (He insists on fresh linen every night.)

I was shocked at these questions and treated them as a joke. But he was dead serious. Now I ask you, Ann Landers, in the absence of other peculiarities, does this man sound like a good third or fourth date she became would you do? — JASMINE.

Dear Jasmine: I'd let his mother have him for another 33 years.

Jilted Jill

Dear Ann: Is this girl doing the right thing or not? On her third or fourth date she became intimate with this boy and now she is pregnant. She is a 20-year-old nurse who should have known better.

The young man says he is sorry he got involved and he wants nothing more to do with her. The girl is planning to file a paternity suit and insists on keeping the baby against all the advice from every side.

I say she should go to a home for unwed mothers, have the baby and put it up for adoption. If she does this nobody will be hurt. She will not shame her family or his, and the young man will not be stuck for 21 years of support money. Also, the baby will get a decent break instead of being known as an illegitimate child.

A lot is riding on your answer, so think it through carefully. — INTERESTED PARTY.

Dear Party: The girl did not ask me for advice so I won't attempt to give her any. Obviously she has made her decision and it's one which should be made by the girl herself.

It's a little late for that sterling young fellow to decide he "wants nothing more to do with her." There are laws for hit-and-run Romeo-as he is about to find out.

Q's and A's

Q—What president signed the Social Security Act?

A—President Franklin D. Roosevelt, on August 14, 1935.

Q—Can a jellyfish sting humans?

A—All are equipped with stinging cells, but only some are able to penetrate the human skin.

Q—What is the origin of the expression "he got the sack," meaning he was fired?

A—This goes back to the early days of the Industrial Revolution in England, when mechanics supplied their own tools. When a worker was dismissed, he was usually given a sack for his tools.

Q—To what country does the Saar now belong?

A—This rich industrial and mining region on the French-German border now belongs to West Germany, as a result of the Luxembourg Agreement.

Q—What became of Joseph, the husband of Mary, who was the mother of Jesus?

A—It is generally assumed that Joseph died before the adult ministry of Jesus began. That is inferred from the Bible, which never mentions him beyond the time when Jesus was 12.

Matter of Fact

Before the Revolutionary War, New York City was regarded as the focal point of rebellion against the British crown. The Stamp Act congress was convened there, and the resistance of the newly formed Sons of Liberty and the merchants forced the repeal of the act. And New York had its own "tea party"—dumping 18 cases of British tea into the harbor there in April 1774.

By DAVID LAWRENCE

The United States has an opportunity to help the people of Cuba, who have just suffered devastation of their farm lands by a hurricane.

To grant aid at this time would make an indelible impression on the people of Cuba, for they have been repeatedly told by Castro that this country is hostile to them. The mere fact that the United States government is ready to put aside its formalities in dealing with a country whose government isn't recognized diplomatically would create inside Cuba a feeling that the Cuban nation has not been abandoned by the people of this country. It would be a reminder of the friendly spirit exhibited 65 years ago when the United States sent its armed forces to help emancipate the island from Spanish oppressors.

Sen. George A. Smathers, D-Fla., a state which is caring for many Cuban exiles—is a staunch antagonist of Castro and his government, but nevertheless says in a statement that he favors aid to Cuba through the American Red Cross.

He declares that, if permission were granted by the State Department here, the United States need not deal with Castro or his government. He adds: "I believe that such an act of friendship would demonstrate to the Cubans that we bear no ill will toward them as people even though we remain steadfastly opposed to their form of government."

Because the United States is close by, it can furnish aid promptly. If some such move isn't made, the Soviets might take advantage of the situation and come to the rescue of the Cubans, if only for propaganda purposes.

ON THE PROPAGANDA side, however, the United States has a greater opportunity than does the Soviet Union. The people of Cuba know that, in the long run, their interests are more closely interwoven with those of this country than with the distant government in Moscow.

There has been, as a matter of fact, very little communication recently between the people of Cuba and the people of the United States.

Except for the help given Cuban exiles and the sending of food and medicines in exchange for the prisoners held for ransom, there has been dependence on radio broadcasts to convey to the Cubans the information that the people of the United States are still interested in their fate.

The sudden destruction of sugar, coffee and tobacco crops by the hurricane will have a serious economic effect in Cuba, even though aid is rushed to individuals who have been made homeless.

The opportunity now is present for the formulation of a comprehensive plan of economic aid and development for the Cuban people. This could be widely publicized so that the residents of the island will come to realize how much better off they would be if they could somehow get rid of Castro.

IT'S THUS a broad chance for an important move on the policy front which could perhaps hasten the day of a revolution to overthrow Castro. He himself would be caught in a squeeze. If he shunned America's offer of aid, he might unwittingly even light the fire of a revolution.

However distasteful it might be to him, he might be taking less chance by letting the supplies come onto the island than by refusing them.

It wasn't Cuba alone, of course, which got hurt by the hurricane. Haiti's loss of life and property has been extensive. The United States maintains friendly relations with Haiti and will expedite help to that country, for which the American people will be glad to contribute through the Red Cross.

Again and again in recent years, assistance along humanitarian lines has been given to peoples in Latin America and elsewhere when earthquakes and other disasters have occurred.

THE QUESTION naturally arises whether the export of American wheat to the Soviet people wouldn't come in the same category of humanitarianism even though it's a commercial sale.

The United States doesn't need the money from the sale, and the government here could block it. There's always the possibility, however, that the United States could begin to negotiate an agreement with Moscow to end the "cold war." The prospect could be held forth of an even larger program of economic cooperation than the sale of wheat.

Certainly diplomacy should be busy these days at governmental levels, but the favorable impressions created by letting peoples everywhere have food from America offer propaganda advantages inside other countries.

And it is, after all, the feeling of friendship other peoples come to have toward the United States which must in the long run cause them to dissent from the policies of autocratic governments.

Hasty Conclusions

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—Jumping to conclusions:

Plump widows have the best chance of landing another husband—because their suitors, who usually are middle-aged, figure they are good cooks.

It's a good bet that a man who habitually wears only pinstriped suits is a con man, a junior diplomat, or suffers from a superiority complex.

Many a woman surprised by the gift of a new fur coat from her husband would be even more surprised if she knew the real reason he bought it for her.

The most suspicious people in the world are authors, bankers and drug store cashiers.

If you need taxi money home, the easiest person to borrow it from is a waitress over 40.

God must have loved teen-agers, because he made so many of them.

Men who carry their wallets in their inside coat pocket rarely reach first for the restaurant tab, and usually have a few close friends.

If you see a man light up a cigar in his own home, you don't have to ask who's the real boss in that household.

Drugs that come in fancy two-tone capsules are all right for the younger generation, but older people seem to get more benefit from a medicine if it tastes bitter and is poured into a tablespoon from a dull brown bottle.

Nurses have fatter legs than stenographers, but they don't get half as many runs in their stockings.

Bartenders who insist on telling their troubles to their customers get few tips.

Before marriage a girl tells a man his bow ties make him look boyish. After marriage she informs him they make him look silly.

Even if a wife doesn't open her husband's letters, she usually holds them up to the light to examine them before handing them to him.

The hardest word for most people to spell accurately is "accommodate."

A guest usually winds up hungry in a home in which both the wife and husband have martinis together before dinner.

Hints From

Heloise

By HELOISE CRUSE

Dear Heloise: Here is a hint for large or small families who are heavy milk drinkers.

I have found a way to save on our milk bill and still have more milk to enjoy. I mix fresh milk half-and-half with non-fat dry milk.

The whole mixture will taste so much like sweet whole milk that it will surprise you. As far as vitamins and calories are concerned, the milk nutrition of the mixture is exactly the same as whole milk, but the butter fat is less.

This is far better when it sits in the refrigerator for at least 24 hours.

D.C.

DEAR HELOISE: Daddy's old T-shirts make perfect bath towels and washcloths for a baby's soft skin.

I cut the arms off each T-shirt to make baby's towels, and use the sleeves for washcloths.

I always use a thick terry bath towel for a pad underneath the baby at bath time, and use the T-shirt towel for drying.

MOTHER.

DEAR HELOISE: My two boys ran me ragged when they wanted drawing paper.

Instead of buying expensive drawing paper, I bought a roll of the cheapest shelf paper.

I put this roll of lining paper in a metri-edged box (the kind that foil or waxed paper comes in) and now my boys can tear off any size piece, large or small, as they want it.

MRS. ELOIS BYE.

DEAR HELOISE: Why is there always so much of the month left at the end of the money?

MRS. PAT HUNT.

DEAR HELOISE: Other than an apron what can be made from neckties?

Is there any possible way they could be made into bow ties? The present style in my house is narrow bow ties, but since mine are all big, they are outdated in shape.

WIFE.

DEAR FRIEND: I don't know of any pattern you can get to make a narrow bow tie. The best thing I think you can do is to go to your dime store and buy the cheapest bow tie you can find in the shape you want.

Rip this dime-store tie apart, press it with an iron and you will have the exact pattern for a professional bow tie. You will be able to see how the original tie was sewn. Ties are even more expensive when hand made, so don't worry if you haven't a sewing machine.

Just try to buy a homemade bow tie and you will see how expensive they are.

Anyone have any more ideas for using old ties? If so, do dig up that pencil and write to Heloise. We'd love to hear from you.

HELOISE.

DEAR HELOISE: I always pack our shoes in old nylon stockings when we travel. This way, the dust that is on the sole, and the polish, will not come off on clothing in the suitcase.

IRENE ZENKER.

DEAR HELOISE: Here's a tip I learned in Italy:

To remove mildew from colored fabrics we must remember that the fabric must be washable.

Take the shirt, dress or whatever it is (by the way, this also works on my husband's white uniforms), and put it in a large plastic container such as a dishpan or wastebasket.

Pour in enough buttermilk to soak the garment. Let this soak overnight. It helps to rub the mildew spot a little. The next morning wash as usual with detergent and hot water in the washing machine. All mildew is gone!

from her father, from whom she is estranged, and sent him a reply that his mission was finished. Chuong told a questioner that his daughter's version "is certainly not true."

He said his cable protesting government policy against Buddhist opponents was sent Aug. 6, and he resigned Aug. 22 before he received a cable dismissing him. He added that his departure was called a resignation in the South Vietnamese newspapers of Aug. 23.

Chuong, who has called his daughter "power hungry" and had shunned her since she arrived Monday night, plans a speaking tour of his own in the wake of her coast-to-coast tour.

Chuong is a Buddhist and represents the harsh treatment given the Buddhist majority in South Viet Nam. Mrs. Nhu dropped her Buddhist faith and was converted to the Roman Catholicism of the Diem family.

In Mrs. Nhu's speech Wednesday she repeated themes she had stressed in the past. These included a denial that the Diem government has persecuted Buddhists.

When the issue of fire suicides by Buddhists to protest the Diem regime was brought up during the question period, she said: "The few misguided men who have burned themselves to death in recent weeks were all victims of incitement."

Denying Buddhist charges of religious discrimination, Mrs. Nhu said: "They have never fought me, I like them. They would never hurt a fly or an insect."

Answering other questions, she said:

"I am here in spite of all the falsehoods and abuses against my country... I strongly believe my country will be reunited (with Communist North Viet Nam) in the not too distant future, because the North knows perfectly well that they are being defeated..."

"The foreign correspondents in general who do not like the (South) Vietnamese regime. Because of that, the reports are subjective and unfavorable to us... it is really the president who rules the country. My husband (head of the secret police) is said to rule the country, but it is not true..."

mier Khrushchev in the past. Can you now accept at face value his coexistence line?

A. As a matter of fact, you know, my personal experiences with Khrushchev have been widely and very badly stated. Actually he was always going out of his way to be personally friendly. He didn't directly address me at the Paris summit meeting (which Khrushchev torpedoed), he addressed the chairman.

There is this about his present attitude: There is no question in my mind that the Communist doctrine and objective of world domination is as firm as ever.

But we must never for one moment forget what their basic objective is. They themselves recognize that our system or self-government and personal liberties is more appealing to men than is communism. The proof that they recognize this is that they have to keep a closed society.

If they let their people see too much of our society, they know they are gone. Consequently, in the long run, they think they have to destroy us.

Q. You had a lot to do with bringing NATO into life. Do you think that nationalism of Western European countries, particularly De Gaulle in France, is threatening the disintegration of this alliance?

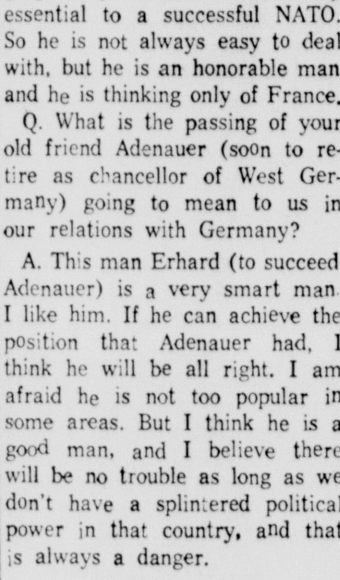

A. I doubt whether it is quite that serious. This is what I think: General de Gaulle has been my friend since 1942, and we have had our ups and downs. We have had, really, some tough disputes. But I know this: I have never lost my liking and respect for him, and I think he feels the same way. Ever since I have known him he has made the restoration and dignity, and what he calls the honor and glory of France, his whole life.

Of course, he knows that geographically France is absolutely essential to a successful NATO. So he is not always easy to deal with, but he is an honorable man and he is thinking only of France.

Q. What is the passing of your old friend Adenauer (soon to retire as chancellor of West Germany) going to mean to us in our relations with Germany?

A. This man Erhard (to succeed Adenauer) is a very smart man. I like him. If he can achieve the position that Adenauer had, I think he will be all right. I am afraid he is not too popular in some areas. But I think he is a good man, and I believe there will be no trouble as long as we don't have a splintered political power in that country, and that is always a danger.

Officials Set For Habitual Traffic Cases

Judges and clerks from Columbiana and Mahoning County courts and Mahoning law enforcement officers held a briefing session in Youngstown Municipal Court Wednesday afternoon to help clarify the changeover effective today, of administering habitual traffic offender cases from common pleas courts to the county court system.

The session presided over by Municipal Judge Donald L. Hanni, was attended by Judge Luther Donbar of the local Columbiana County Northwest Court, his clerk, Ida Austin, Judge Herbert Arfman of the Eastern County Court and his clerk, Inez Wisser.

Until this year when the State Legislature changed the law, habitual traffic offenders under the 12-point system appeared before common pleas judges.

Columbiana County Clerk of Courts Carl Stacey has estimated that the new plan will involve an approximate 75 cases going to the Southern (Lisbon) County Court, where James L. MacDonald presides, the Eastern Court and Northwest Court.

New dockets for keeping habitual offender records have been distributed to the Columbiana County courts.

Mahoning County Prosecutor Clyde W. Osborne or Judge Hanni were expected to contact the Ohio attorney general to determine whether the cases will be referred directly to the county courts or be distributed to the appropriate courts from the prosecutor's office.

Wheat

tons of grain would go to the Soviet Union, and one million tons to Bulgaria, Hungary, Poland and Czechoslovakia. Some other legislators said the sales are expected to total 7 million tons.

Plagued by farm problems for years, the Soviet Union and some of its Eastern European satellites were forced to turn to the capitalist West for more grain this year when a drought cut deeply into harvests. The Soviet Union has already closed deals with Canada and Australia.

"Basically, the Soviet Union will be treated like any other cash customer in the world market who is willing and able to strike bargain with private American merchants," said Kennedy.

The sales, however, will involve at least two U.S. government subsidies designed to keep higher priced U.S. wheat and shipping competitive in world trade. And Kennedy made clear that the wheat "will be carried in available American ships, supplemented by ships of other countries as required."

Kennedy said the sale would be made at regular world price about 60 cents less than the domestic market price. The federal government has an export subsidy that makes up the difference. So while the Communist countries pay the low world price, the U.S. dealers will receive the higher U.S. price December wheat closed at $2.11 a bushel on the Chicago grain futures market Wednesday.

As administration officials portrayed it, the wheat deal would lighten the U.S. taxpayer's load by trimming some $200 million off the government's surplus grain storage costs.

They saw no subsidy to the Soviets, on grounds that the subsidy had already been paid to the U.S. farmer through his receiving the U.S. support price of 50 cents a bushel above the world market price.

Kennedy said the deal was good business for the United States in several ways: An improvement in the U.S. balance of payments, increase in gold supplies, strengthening of the farm economy and a reduction in the vast and costly U.S. wheat surplus.

He saw a bonus in it, too: "This transaction advertises to the world as nothing else could the success of free American agriculture."

At another point, however, Kennedy conceded officials have differed about policy in South Viet Nam. But now, he said, "I know of no disagreement on what our basic policies will be and what steps we will take to implement them."

Carabba and Mainer also had been questioned in gangland slayings. Mainer was free on bond pending appeal of a conviction for conspiracy in connection with the 1960 burglary of a Sharon, Pa., clothing store.

The 34-year-old Carabba was one of five secretly indicted in Trumbull County (Warren) four years ago for burglary, but he was acquitted.

There has been no word from another village on the mountain overlooking the reservoir. Authorities feared it might have been swept away by the landslide.

Italian army rescue teams, Red Cross crews and U.S. Air Force planes and helicopters were mobilized into a massive relief army. "We are not finding many injured," said one official. "Many people either saved themselves or died."

Belluno hospital reported only five injured were under treatment there.

Autumn rains had loosened a vast earth mass about 650 feet above the reservoir. About 10 days ago the mass started moving down the mountain at a rate of about 16 inches a day.

Engineers figured the mass would reach the reservoir about mid-November. Wednesday they started to empty the artificial lake slowly.

It is a big reservoir—four miles long and 400 meters (440 yards) wide. Normally its waters are 900 feet deep. Its level Wednesday night had been lowered about 75 feet. That wasn't enough when the landslide suddenly tore loose.

"Practically an entire mountain fell into the reservoir," one official said.

An engineer of the Societa Adriatica di Elettricit , which built the dam, said the landslide was of tremendous proportions, probably measuring 50,000 cubic yards of rock.

The earth mass sent the stored up waters—close to 150 million tons—pouring out in a massive, destructive waterfall.

Prestamburgo said only 10 homes and the church were left standing in Longarone. More than 90 buildings and homes were destroyed. Longarone is nearly three miles from the dam.

Survivors from communities near Longarone told of hearing a horrifying roar minutes before the crash of the water. Many fled to higher ground before the water swept away their homes.

Thirty-two survivors from a village six miles from Longarone said they saw people scrambling to reach higher ground, then disappearing under the rolling column of water, which crushed houses like match boxes.

Strike Called At W. Virginia China Plant

EAST LIVERPOOL, Ohio (AP) — A labor dispute at a West Virginia china company spread today and shut down plants on both sides of the Ohio River in this pottery-making area. Some 2,500 workers were idled by the wildcat strike.

The dispute is over the firing of five union leaders last week by the Homer Laughlin Co. at Newell W. Va. The five leaders of Laborers Local 141 were fired for participating in an earlier walkout over a job classification dispute.

The firings triggered a wildcat strike that shut down the Homer Laughlin plant briefly.

Representatives of the International Brotherhood of Operative Pottery met Wednesday with management representatives but failed to solve the dispute. The Federal Mediation and Conciliation Service was asked to send a mediator as the next step in grievance procedure.

But leaders of Local 141 called a mass meeting Wednesday night, asking members of other crafts to attend. Some 250 to 300 workers attended the meeting, at which it was decided to picket all pottery plants in the area.

Major plants shut down, in addition to the Homer Laughlin Plant, which employs 1,100 are the Harkner China Co. and Taylor, Smith & Taylor, both of Chester, W. Va. and the Hall China Co. at East Liverpool.

The international union said any such work stoppage at this time violates contract agreements and said picketing is not condoned by the international.

Homer Laughlin Co. had obtained a circuit court injunction to halt picketing at the Newell plant last week.

Driver Fined $150 Following Chase

Alexander Ulanosky, 49, of Pershing Ave., Cleveland, charged with driving while under the influence of alcohol Wednesday was fined $150 and costs and sentenced to three days in city jail by Mayor Dean Cramer.

Ulanosky at first entered a plea of innocent but later changed his plea to guilty.

The Cuyahoga County motorist was arrested Wednesday morning at 2:30 on E. State St. at Brooklyn after he tried to outrace pursuing city police.

Police spotted Ulanosky weaving his auto as he was eastbound on E. State St. Wheeling the cruiser around, the patrolman gave chase and Ulanosky, sensing the cop's intentions, turned around at the Amoco Station near the city limits and headed west. Ulanosky was ordered to stop but ignored the command. Police finally halted the drunken motorist at Brooklyn.

Mrs. Hoopes, who had resided on South Lincoln Ave., left last Thursday for Coral Gables, Fla., to make her home.

Harold DeRoods of 710 Olive St. is a medical patient at St. Elizabeth's Hospital in Youngstown.

The Acadians were driven from their homes in Canada because they refused to swear loyalty to the British Crown after Great Britain conquered New France (Canada) in the 1700s.

Preliminary Hearing Date Set for Zirwas

WARREN, Ohio (AP)—A preliminary hearing has been set for David H. Zirwas, 28, accused of the Sept. 19 robbery-slitting of Benjamin Krawiecki, 42, on a Niles street corner.

SAXBE GIVES RULING
COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Atty. Gen. William B. Saxbe has advised Trumbull County Prosecutor Lynn B. Saxbe said complaint and hearing are necessary in such removal procedures because the welfare board members are public officers as intended by the Ohio Constitution and law.

Ray of Hope Seen for Men Who Fail Military Tests

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy and a lot of other Americans are worried about the bad showing made by so many young men tested for military service.

Last year a few over 300,000 reported for initial draft examinations. Virtually half of them were found unqualified for service. Nearly a fourth flunked fairly simple mental tests.

This is enough to alarm anybody, and Kennedy has set up a high-level task force to prepare a program for the guidance, testing, counseling, training and rehabilitation of those who don't measure up.

The task force is to make a preliminary report the first of next month and a final report by the first of the year.

Bad as the situation is, those undertaking the study can find rays of hope.

One is in the experience of the Army with illiterates in World War II, referred to by Kennedy in announcing the new effort.

The Army set up special training units for men who couldn't read or write, and trained 300,000 of them. Of these, 85 per cent passed the courses and went on to serve as soldiers.

A sampling of these once-illiterates showed that a fourth of them rose to the rank of corporal or better, and a considerable number won decorations.

Another encouraging study is reported by the President's Council on Physical Fitness. It found that the first time some 200,000 school children were given a minimum physical fitness test, about one-third of them failed. After 12 weeks of rather simple exercises, over 80 per cent could pass.

Reports from colleges and universities of Iowa and Florida and East Washington State College.

American children have ranked behind European youth in fitness. But there now come reports that the children in West Germany are getting soft and flabby as their country waxes fat and prosperous.

The West German children, say these reports, are going in for rich food and driving around in Volkswagens.

The Doctor Says

By Dr. WAYNE G. BRANDSTADT
Stroke Rehabilitation Takes Time

Many strokes are being prevented today through the recognition of little strokes and through X-ray pictures of the blood vessel pattern in the brain. But what of those persons in whom a major stroke does occur? This is no longer a hopeless situation thanks to new surgical techniques and rehabilitation.

The first thing the doctor must do is to pinpoint the area involved. The symptoms produced vary from sudden paralysis to deafness or blindness and they give a pretty accurate clue to the location of the damage but they do not tell whether the cause was a hemorrhage or an obstruction due to a clot or the narrowing of a hardened artery.

The use of a variety of X-ray techniques, but especially of a harmless opaque dye solves this problem. Since different causes require different treatments this step is essential.

THE BRAIN TISSUE can withstand having the oxygen supply from the blood shut off for only a few minutes before permanent damage to its delicate cells occurs. By lowering the body temperature from 98.6 degrees down to 82 degrees the surgeon is able to work on the brain longer than he could if the normal body temperature were maintained, and still avoid brain damage.

The surgeon may remove a clot, repair an occluded vessel in the neck or provide it with a bypass or he may stop a hemorrhage.

These operations save many lives that would otherwise be lost. When the stroke is due to an occluded vessel in the neck, complete recovery often takes place while the victim is still on the operating table.

FOR THOSE WHOSE recovery is slower, rehabilitation is often possible.

In order to accomplish the best results, this should be started as soon as the emergency aspects of the treatment are completed. In rehabilitation a nurse specially trained in this field is a key person. She sees to it that the victim's position is shifted at frequent intervals. This helps to prevent pressure ulcers or bedsores. She also moves paralyzed limbs so that the joints do not stiffen.

AS SOON AS the victim is able to make any voluntary movements of his fingers or toes, a series of graduated exercises is given. No victim is permitted to loaf or feel sorry for himself because as soon as this occurs he is doomed to a life of complete dependency.

In one series of patients, 61 per cent of those who entered a program of active rehabilitation within less than six months after their stroke were restored to useful community living.

Of these, half were able to return to some gainful employment. When the victims had been paralyzed for more than six months the results were much poorer.

FICTION

TEARS ARE FOR THE LIVING by Margaret Banister. A long novel about a Virginia family from the end of the civil war to the present time. The principal character is "Miss Janie" who lives out her hundred years of life in the same house. It is a placid, meandering story in which no great issues are settled, but where several generations of a family are born, live and die.

THE DEATH OF PETERSON'S WHARF by Charles Brooks. Three young people spend an enchanted summer with an artist who understands them and befriends them. They respond so fully that when the artist must leave two of them are unable to bear it. The story is told by the remaining one fifteen years after the event. Most interesting bit of the book is the diary kept by one of the boys—written on an old typewriter, bad spelling, lack of punctuation and all.

THE HORN AND THE FOREST by Jamie Lee Cooper. Indiana during Revolutionary times is the background for a novel about two generations of pioneers who have at least two members who find the means of getting along with their neighbors, the Indians.

THE LAST LOVE by Thomas B. Costain. Napoleon as a person is brought out in great detail in this story of his imprisonment on the island of St. Helena and of his friendship with the young English girl, Betsy Balcombe.

DOES IT MAKE INTO A BED? by Lorna Novak. A witty and very funny novel about a number of impossible goings-on which are supposed to have taken place in Texas.

MONTE WALSH by Jack Schoffer. This is a story about a good cowboy who lived through the days of the heyday of the cattle country and on into the period when the land was fenced. But the difference between this and a typical "Western" is as great as day is from night. It is a solidly written and true-to-life story of a period and a type of man which exists no more.

Mysteries

THE MIRROR CRACK'D by Agatha Christie. A famous film actress sees something very strange just before a murder is committed in her house.

BLACK SISTER by Dagmar Edqvist. A white woman is murdered in a village in Africa where she was the only white resident.

UNDERCOVER CAT by the Gordons. This has a lot of fun as well as mystery. It will come out as a Walt Disney movie in the future.

NON-FICTION

OCCULTISM: ITS THEORY AND PRACTICE by Sirdar Akbal Ali Shah. This is a collection and description of many different kinds of so-called magic arts. How witches and sorcerers cast their spells, white magic and alchemy are all included.

SOCIAL WORK by Elizabeth A. Ferguson. This is a systematic account of the field of professional social work. It gives a background of the history of the profession and describes the various types of work being done today such as family case work, services to children, school social work, child guidance clinics, special services to delinquent children, psychiatric and medical social work and social group work.

QUESTIONS TEEN AGERS ASK by Sheila John Daly. Miss Daly has selected a large group of questions which teen-agers have written her because of her syndicated newspaper column and arranged them in chapters by subject.

THE WINE IS BITTER by Milton S. Eisenhower. Mr. Eisenhower was President Eisenhower's Personal Representative in Latin America for eight years, he already knew the countries there somewhat before that time, so he is indeed well qualified to write, as he does here, of the idea that South Americans have of us and of the great amount of background work which was done before the Alliance for Progress could be started.

WRITING by David Diringer. A history of what is known about the development of written symbols for ideas from the earliest known examples down to the use of modern script and print.

ANIMAL MIGRATION by Rene Thevenin. This French naturalist divides his material into four classes. He takes up first migrations of invertebrates such as locusts and butterflies; next migration of fish including salmon and eels; third, the migration of mammals such as bison, antelope; last are the migrations of birds.

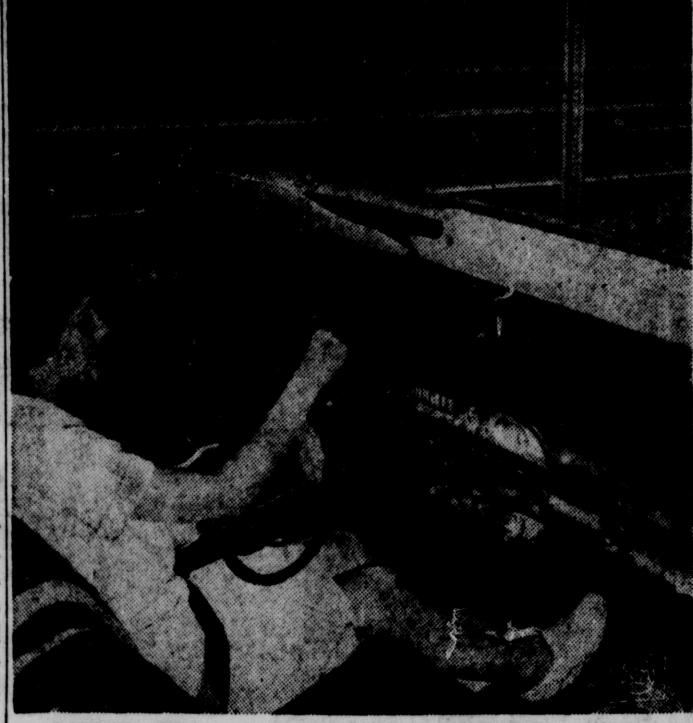

A GUIDE-BOOK TO BIOCHEMISTRY by K. Harrison. The nature and sources of energy in cells, catalysis by enzymes, photosynthesis in green plants, the breakdown of different kinds of foodstuff and finally, new ideas about how cells are able to control their own metabolism make up the contents of this brief book.

GUIDE TO GOOD DRIVING by Roger Ward. The emphasis here is on safe and skillful driving—on the highway, the turnpikes, and in the city. The author is a famous racing driver, he was assisted by Brock Yates who is an author and racer.

GLENN'S NEW AUTO REPAIR MANUAL. A manual which is new to this library, but which is recommended. It contains explanations of principles, details of repairing and testing parts and systems, covers specifications for major makes of cars for the past eleven years.

AUDELS GUIDES. New editions of Gas engine manual, Machinists and tool makers guide, Carpenters and builders guide have just been received.

SHRUBS AND TREES FOR THE HOME LANDSCAPE by James Bush-Brown. Listing is alphabetical by the botanical name, but the index is prepared under the popular name. Only essential information is given—height, soil, exposure, uses and pruning.

HOW TO MAKE BIG MONEY IN DIRECT SELLING by Henry Flarsheim. This how-to-do-it sales book gives many short case histories as well as the actual directions of what to do first and second and third.

THE FORGOTTEN PEOPLE by Seymour Freidin. Mr. Freidin is executive editor in charge of foreign news for the New York Herald Tribune. He has lived in Europe for a good many years and has seen much of what he describes. He describes conditions in the satellite countries from 1945 to 1961 and contends that they will eventually find a way to free themselves.

FORGIVE US OUR PRESS PASSES by Elaine Shepard. Miss Shepard is an actress-turned-correspondent who writes with a flair that seems to be surpassed only by her personality. President Eisenhower's tour of India, Africa during its most troublous times are high points in the book.

Giants' Main Concern Is Cleveland's Jimmy Brown

NY Studies Game Movies

Huff Says Browns Are Different Now

By BOB GREEN
Associated Press Sports Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — Violent Sam Huff, middle linebacker of the New York Giants, sat on the bench in the club dressing room and talked about Jimmy Brown.
"My wife phoned me in Washington Saturday night and asked me if I'd seen him in the Brown-Steeler game on TV," Sam said. "She seemed afraid for me."
There's a sound basis for Mrs. Huff's concern. Her Sam will be one of the chief agents in the Giants' attempts to contain the 230-pound fullback in New York's key National Football League game with the Cleveland Browns Sunday.

The Eastern Conference lead will be at stake. The Browns, bolting along unbeaten under new Coach Blanton Collier, currently hold the lead with a 4-0 record. The Giants, defending conference champs, are 3-1 going into their home opener.

Most of the Giants' concern is with stopping Brown, a five-time league rushing leader who has gained 664 yards and scored seven touchdowns, both league highs.

"I don't think there's a line-backer in the league who can stop Brown playing him man to man," Huff said.

"You don't play him head to head. There are times when he is not involved. There are plays when I do key on Brown, but if we're in a zone defense my responsibility is the middle."

"If Brown gets outside he's going to hurt you with his speed, but I believe he is more dangerous coming through the line. If you remember 1958 he cut off left tackle and went 65 yards for a touchdown. We're still living with that one."

The Giants have had unusual success against the Browns in recent years and veteran defensive players such as Andy Robustelli and Huff say a large part of it has been due to their ability to anticipate the plays former Coach Paul Brown sent in from the bench.

It's changed this year. Frank Ryan, the No. 2 passer in the league, now exercises his own judgment in most cases and has opened up the offense. As a result, the Giants have spent the week studying films of Cleveland's four previous victories, over Washington, Dallas, Los Angeles and Pittsburgh.

Celtics Vow To Win 6th NBA Crown

BOSTON (AP)—The dedicated Boston Celtics have vowed to win a sixth straight National Basketball Association championship and prove the retirement of Bob Cousy will not break the title chain.

"We won't be as spectacular without Cousy, but we'll win as many games—maybe more," predicts Bill Russell, appointed co-captain with Frank Ramsey.

"We're still the champs until somebody proves otherwise," adds Coach Red Auerbach. "Barring injuries, it will be our own fault if we don't win again."

Auerbach is convinced the chief obstacle to an eighth straight Eastern Division crown is Cincinnati.

"Anybody is crazy who doesn't bet on Cincinnati," Red said. "They took us seven full games in the playoffs. Now they have all that talent back plus Jerry Lucas."

The Celtics figure the whole league is tougher and realize there is a gap without "the Cozy."

Yet the team may wind up with best bench ever and not retain a rookie in the process. Willie Naulls, who had announced his retirement, was purchased from San Francisco for $18,000 and a future draft choice.

Johnny McCarthy, ex-St. Louis and Cincinnati backcourt performer, was picked up as a free agent, and has been a tremendous surprise to date, indicating his recent knee miseries may be over.

Colts, Mets Can Pick Up Extra Players At Special Draw Today

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP)—The Houston Colts and the New York Mets get a chance today to pick up some new players—but chances are even this won't help them much.

Both teams again finished at the bottom of the National League standings and the eight established clubs agreed to help them by letting them buy some more players.

The Mets and Colts were set up in 1961 through a player draft and today's deal will be similar. Each of the older clubs has listed four players whom the newcomers may buy for $30,000 each.

Yes, but which players? Their names have not been announced, but few are likely to qualify as stars.

One of the men who does know the names — General Manager George Weiss of the Mets—does not seem greatly impressed.

Weiss, who will get first choice of players in a conference telephone call this afternoon, said Wednesday night the draft "might be what you'd expect. It's not going to put us in the first division."

Weiss said he might buy a couple of players—he wouldn't name any possibilities—but added "that's an offhand estimate. I still have some calls to make. I want to get hold of some people who know the physical condition of some of these players. We've had enough of that sort of thing."

Some of the Mets' and Colts' original draftees did not turn out to be too sound of mind and limb. The way this year's plan will operate, a club can close its list after one of its players has been chosen. But it does not have to, and as many as 32 players may be drafted at the price.

Referee Joey Harrison, the only official under New Jersey rules, scored it 5-23. The Associated Press also favored Torres, 6-3-1.

Torres consistently beat Fullmer to the punch, particularly over the first seven rounds as he displayed a sharp head and body attack. When Fullmer started to rally in the eighth and ninth rounds, Torres stopped him short with a smashing left that sent him reeling into the ropes.

Torres' record is 26-1-1 while Fullmer, 24, of West Jordan, Utah, has a 31-9-1 mark. There were no knockdowns but at the end Fullmer was bleeding from both nostrils and Torres had a slight cut on the bridge of his nose. Torres had a three-pound weight advantage, 161 to 158.

Torres Disappointed Despite 10-Round Win Over Fullmer

TEANECK, N.J. (AP) — From the mood in the dressing rooms, you couldn't tell who won Wednesday night's Jose Torres-Don Fullmer middleweight bout.

Torres, declared the winner of the slow-starting 10-round scrap, was disappointed with his performance and demanded a return bout.

Down the hall, Fullmer and his brother, Gene, the former middleweight king, were happily posing for pictures and amiably greeting well-wishers.

"I want to fight him again," Torres said. "I want to beat him the way I should. When I was stopped by Florentino Fernandez last May for my only defeat, I fought better than I did this time."

"I felt real good but my performance was not as good as I felt. Fullmer is awkward and a tough guy to fight. If I fight him the same way I fought Fernandez I'll knock him out."

Referee Joey Harrison, the only official under New Jersey rules, scored it 5-23. The Associated Press also favored Torres, 6-3-1.

Torres' record is 26-1-1 while Fullmer, 24, of West Jordan, Utah, has a 31-9-1 mark. There were no knockdowns but at the end Fullmer was bleeding from both nostrils and Torres had a slight cut on the bridge of his nose. Torres had a three-pound weight advantage, 161 to 158.

Referee Joey Harrison, the only official under New Jersey rules, scored it 5-23. The Associated Press also favored Torres, 6-3-1.

Torres consistently beat Fullmer to the punch, particularly over the first seven rounds as he displayed a sharp head and body attack. When Fullmer started to rally in the eighth and ninth rounds, Torres stopped him short with a smashing left that sent him reeling into the ropes.

Lisbon, Louisville In Tuneups Friday For Showdown Battle Slated Oct. 18

Unless Lisbon and Louisville are looking ahead to their showdown battle for Tri-County League supremacy Oct. 18, the two schools should have little trouble with grid encounters Friday.

Coach Bud Bucher's unbeaten Blue Devils (5-0) take on Sebring (2-3) and Louisville (4-1) goes against Poland (2-2).

The power thrusts of Lisbon fullback Gary Peruchetti make the difference for the smooth running attack employed by the Blue Devils.

East Palestine, a 22-0 victim of Lisbon last week, clipped Chet Riffe's Trojan juggernaut 14-6 the third game of the campaign.

Sebring has dropped its last three, one to the powerful Louisville unit 50-0. The Trojans have posted victories over McDonald 26-8 and North Lima 8-0.

Only four TD's have been scored on the tough Lisbon defensive squad, two of them by Wellsville in a 38-16 Buchermen victory.

LOUISVILLE, under the direction of Hal Lillick, dropped a 42-6 decision to Canton South the second game of the season, and since then has steamrolled over Leetonia 68-0, Sebring and North Canton 38-8.

Poland lost 8-0 to unbeaten Canfield (4-0-1) to open the season and to Lisbon 30-8 two weeks ago. The Bulldogs have beaten Columbiana 18-12 and Sebring 6-0.

SALEM (2-3) will travel to Canton Fawcett Stadium Saturday to renew one of the toughest series in northeastern Ohio high school football.

The Trojans, piloted by new coach Ron Blackledge, are 1-4. Both schools are in losing slumps and you can be assured of plenty of fireworks for this clash.

CANTON MCKINLEY (3-2) at Massillon (4-1) for the first of two frays this season while the area's top feature sends Alliance (4-1) against Harding (4-1) at Warren Friday.

Minera: Ridge (5-0) shoots for its first Inter-County League crown at McDonald (3-1).

Wellsville still looking for its first victory (0-5) tunes up for its Oct. 18 encounter with Salem at Weirton-Madonna W. Va.

A strong Youngstown Rayen crew travels to East Liverpool (5-0) and Beaver Local (3-2) hits the road for East Palestine (3-2). The Bulldogs go to school on slow time, but the clash will be played under daylight savings time.

A SURPRISING Toledo Scott will try to shatter Niles' streak (43) at the Red Dragons Stadium Saturday. Coach Tony Mason has led the Trumbull County goliath unbeaten since a 15-14 opening game loss to Youngstown Rayen in 1959.

Youngstown North will try to snap its long string of losses at Boardman (3-2) Friday, while Columbiana (0-2-2) hopes to break into the win column at Leetonia (2-3).

West Branch (1-4) entertains Hubbard at Reilly Stadium here Saturday.

AREA FANS are watching from afar the progress of Sandusky. Earle Bruce, former Salem coach, has guided the Blue Streaks to five straight victories.

Belinsky Is 1st To Sign Angels' Pact

By CHARLES MAHER

Associated Press Sports Writer
LOS ANGELES (AP)—Bo Belinsky, picked by many as the athlete most likely to succeed in getting traded without really trying, turns out to be the first man the Los Angeles Angels have signed for 1964.

Belinsky, in fact, is the first player in the major leagues to come to terms for next season. And nothing could put Bo more hilariously out of character than getting something done early. The only thing he's ever done on time before is buy cars.

Until very recently, Belinsky was just about certain he'd be traded this winter. And if he didn't trade him, he figured, they'd perform so much surgery on his salary he'd be exempted from the federal income tax.

To his stark amazement, he discovered Wednesday that the Angels are dropping neither him nor his wages.

"It's a gas," he said. Belinsky achieved wide public notice last year on two counts. When he pitched a no-hitter against the Baltimore Orioles, he became famous. But when his social engagements kept him from getting home before the morning paper, his employers became furious.

This year Bo pitched no no-hitters and many multiple-hitters. He lost seven of his first eight decisions and was optioned to Hawaii in May. He resisted. The Angels cut off his salary. He reconsidered and reported to Hawaii in July. The Angels recalled him in September.

Next year, he promises, he'll be a most changed man.

Hawks Make Reay's NHL Debut Success, Rip Rangers

CHICAGO (AP) — Billy Reay, making his Chicago coaching debut, says the Black Hawks started off their National Hockey League season with a bang—and opposing goalie Jacques Plante will vouch for it.

The Hawks scored a 3-1 victory over the New York Rangers Wednesday night before 14,651 screaming, horn-blowing, paper-throwing fans in Chicago Stadium.

The masked Plante, six-time Vezina Trophy winner during his nine years with the Montreal Canadiens, was making his first league start in the nets for the Rangers.

He was barged so hard that he was required to make 40 stops. Eighteen of them came in the first period while Chicago goalie Glenn Hall was making only four.

Plante could be considered the hero of the game even in defeat. While he was being stamped the 33-year-old netminder suffered a cut over his left eye and the game was held up 20 minutes in the final period while he had seven stitches taken in it. He said the slash was the result of a collision with Black Hawk wing Johnny McKenzie's elbow.

The only Ranger goal came in the first period as Chicago took a 2-1 lead. Earl Ingarfield stole the puck from Howie Young in front of the Hawk net and beat Hall from close in.

The Black Hawks left for Detroit soon after the game and will face the Red Wings tonight in the only NHL contest scheduled.

Harriers 17-44

Defending district champion Salem made it two straight as its crack cross country unit breezed to a 17-44 decision in a two-mile race with Marlinton Tuesday.

Bill Carter, John Tarleton and Tom Pim were clocked in 11:17, 11:19 and 11:30 to take the first three places, respectively.

Reed Wilson came in fifth, Rick Hippiely, sixth, Gary Stoddard, eighth and Pete Nollner, ninth. Ray Collins led the Marlinton hurriers as he finished fourth. Ed Stauffer was seventh and Ted Purdiance, 10th.

Only the first 10 places count in the scoring column. Other Salem participants in the meet included Pete Murdock, 11th and Dave Roberts, 12th.

Entered from Marlinton were Howard Dickson, 13th; Michael Sheppa, 14th; Jack Cherevny, 15th and Berry Brierza, 16th.

Drinking Habits of Kent Students Aired

KENT, Ohio (AP) — Lack of drinking spots and not general rowdiness by Kent State University students has drawn complaints from townspeople, says

Kent Mayor Redmond Greer. "In fact," Greer said Wednesday, "the number of college kids who end up in Mayor's Court is very small."

He noted that at least five students appeared before him in court last week on various disorderly charges.

More than 200 students attended a panel discussion on the drinking habits of Kent students. Besides Greer, other participants invited by the campus daily newspaper, the Kent Stater, were State Liquor Department agents Roy Rook and George Kremer of the Canton district, Ronald Beer, assistant dean of men at Kent, and two Kent tavern keepers.

The mayor denied there is any move in Kent to vote the city dry.

The liquor inspectors warned the students that there would be strict enforcement of drinking-age requirements.

ACCIDENTAL DEATH
NORTH RIDGEVILLE, Ohio (AP)—The fatal shooting of Mickey Mathes, 13, in the North Ridgeville home of a 13-year-old companion has been ruled accidental.

Billy Bruce told detectives Mickey took a rifle from a gun-rack, loaded it, then examined it Wednesday. While Billy was putting the gun back in the rack, it discharged, police said. A bullet ripped through Mathes' elbow and into his back.

DOWN on the FARM

Mahoning Farm Tour

Several hundred district persons in a motorcade are expected to observe what life is like "down on the farm" Saturday when a public tour will be made of five Mahoning County agricultural or conservation sites.

The Rural-Urban Family "Drive It Yourself" tour, sponsored by the Youngstown Junior Chamber of Commerce, will take in Jerome Hull's Whitehouse Farms north of Salem on Route 62, the farm of Mahoning County star farmer Eugene Oesch at Berlin Center, the Mahoning County Experiment Farm south of Canfield, the Mill Creek Recreation area (Berlin Reservoir area), and Isaly's farm just west of North Jackson near Bailey Rd.

Visitors may go to these spots at the following times: Hull's, 10 a.m. to 3 p.m.; Oesch, 10 a.m. to 6 p.m.; Mill Creek Recreation area at 1 p.m. (marsh development for ducks, water fowl, free-lease hunting agreements, woodlot improvement); Isaly's, 4:15 to 6 p.m.

At Hull's visitors will see 6,000 turkeys and 50 acres of fruit including an acre of everbearing strawberries grown in plastic mulch. Oesch features 35 head of Holstein milk cows, milking parlor, hay and corn. Tours will also cover wheat fields, a farm pond and soil and water conservation practices.

At the research farm Charolais and Hereford cattle, soil and water conservation practices, contours, farm pond, grain and fruit experiments, and woodlot improvement will be on display.

Visitors at Isaly's will see milking in the milking parlor, silo, silage feeder and sod waterways.

The Berlin Buckaroos 4-H Club will serve food at the Mill Creek Recreation area and picnic tables and other facilities are available.

Grazing Rule Relaxed
Farmers can now graze the acreage they diverted under the 1963 feed grain and wheat stabilization programs without special approval, C. F. Shaw, chairman of the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee, announced today. This applies uniformly throughout the county and was effective Oct. 1.

He stressed, however, that this relaxation of program provisions applies only to grazing the feed grain and wheat diverted acres. Hay on such acreages still may not be harvested.

Further, the relaxation does not apply to acreage diverted under the conservation reserve program, which may not be grazed or harvested through the whole year.

Altogether, a total of 600 farms in the county is participating in the 1963 feed grain and wheat stabilization programs, Shaw said.

Mrs. Nhu To Be On 'Meet the Press'

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Television-Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—South Viet Nam's photogenic Mrs. Ngo Dinh Nhu apparently has heard about the perils of over-exposure on American television, but she has friends and influencing networks.

When the Vietnamese First Lady announced plans to visit this country, the three major networks plunged into their usual fierce competition for exclusive interviews. She — or her representatives — apparently granted practically all requests, network and local.

But as things stand now, NBC's "Meet the Press" show next Sunday will be her only exposure on network TV.

Chet Huntley noted during his Tuesday night newscast that Mrs. Nhu had at that point called off three scheduled television interviews "because she is too busy and doesn't want to risk overexposure."

Wednesday, she canceled an interview scheduled for Friday morning's NBC "Today Show." Then she broke a date for a two-hour "Open End" session, set for weekend syndication by host David Susskind.

Comic Jerry Van Dyke, who has been having pretty thick going as a regular on CBS' "Judy Garland," has been dropped. And a better thing couldn't happen to a nice guy and—in the right surroundings—a good comedian.

The network is going ahead with some ideas for a comedy series for Jerry, hopefully for next season.

Murder Victim's Clothing Will Be Checked for Clues

CLEVELAND (AP) — Sheriff's deputies were to take another look today at the clothing of Richards for possible clues in the baffling slaying.

In other developments in the case Wednesday night, Richards, 38, was reported to have left an estate valued at in excess of $1 million but apparently no will.

Richards' admitted mistress, Mrs. June Wasko, 27, left home with her husband, Andrew, 35, and their two small daughters. Authorities said the Waskos were believed headed for Pennsylvania to stay with some relatives.

Mrs. Wasko has said she had been dating Richards for the past year. Her husband said he was aware of it and was happy with the arrangement.

Investigators say they are satisfied Wasko had nothing to do with the killing of Richards, whose badly beaten body was found Monday morning in the trunk of his car in suburban Berea.

He was divorced and lived in a motel in suburban Strongsville. His only survivor is believed to be his mother, Mrs. Eva Burnett of East Cleveland.

TO HOLD MEETINGS

WILMINGTON, Ohio (AP) — Gov. James A. Rhodes and his cabinet are scheduled to hold a public meeting on the stage of Boyd Auditorium here Monday. They plan to come from Columbus on an airplane that will land at nearby Clinton County Air Force Base.

RULES SELF DEFENSE

LIMA, Ohio (AP)—Allen County Prosecutor Robert L. Balyeat says he believes Walter Cole, 21, fired in self-defense when Wallace Clayborn, 36, was fatally shot

Tuesday night. Balyeat said he would not file charges against Cole, and police released Cole Wednesday.

Witnesses told police that Cole shot Clayborn during an argument in front of Cole's house. Clayborn's wife, Wilma Mae, was beaten on the head and hospitalized. But the prosecutor said investigation indicated the victims had been the aggressors in the dispute.
